

AT A GLANCE – Disputes about Conduct and Compensation Agreements

What to do and where to go for help

I HAVE A DISPUTE

Step 1 Make reasonable attempt to resolve

Before you raise a dispute about your Conduct and Compensation Agreement (CCA), you should first make a reasonable attempt to resolve the situation with the other party. This could include:

- > contacting the other party to discuss the matter – via phone, email or in person
- > attempting to directing negotiate with the other party
- > participating in an alternative dispute resolution (ADR) process

Step 2 seek help

I AM NEGOTIATING A CCA

Department of Resources

- > Conference facilitated by department officer
- > Free service
- > Informal
- > No legal representation required

Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR)

- > Mediation, conciliation, case appraisal or arbitration
- > Conducted by an independent private facilitator
- > Lawyers and experts may be involved
- > Parties pay facilitator, legal and expert fees

Land Court

- > Formal legal process
- > Parties pay legal and expert fees
- > Court makes binding decision

Option unavailable if parties have not first tried to resolve via departmental conference or ADR.*

I HAVE AN EXISTING CCA

Land Access Ombudsman

- > Investigates disputes about alleged CCA breaches
- > May offer alternative dispute resolution (ADR) processes - mediation, conciliation, case appraisal
- > Provides fair and impartial advice to parties on their positions
- > Makes non-binding recommendations about how to resolve disputes
- > Free service to all parties
- > Independent of government
- > Minimal formality, although can exercise investigation powers
- > Alternative to court, faster and less expensive
- > No legal representation required

Option unavailable if the dispute is, or has been, the subject of an investigation by DoR/DES, arbitration or Land Court proceeding.*

Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR)

- > Mediation, conciliation, case appraisal or arbitration
- > Conducted by an independent private facilitator
- > Lawyers and experts may be involved
- > Parties pay facilitator, legal and expert fees

Land Court

- > Formal legal process
- > Parties pay legal and expert fees
- > Court makes binding decision

I HAVE AN ENQUIRY OR COMPLAINT ABOUT RESOURCE ACTIVITIES

Department of Resources

- > Manages resource enquiries, information requests and complaints
- > Investigates possible offences and breaches of resources, legislation and resource authority conditions
- > Undertakes compliance action
- > Coordinates responses with other government agencies

Department of Environment and Science (DES)

- > Investigates possible offences and breaches of environmental legislation or environmental authority conditions
- > Undertakes compliance action
- > Responds to pollution and environmental incidents

Gasfields Commission

- > Provides information and referral services
- > Helps landholders understand their rights and obligations
- > Provides extension and education material including land access framework, negotiation and dispute resolution options
- > Advises government on systemic issues
- > Does not deal with individual disputes
